

REL 213: Christian Ethics in a Changing Society

An investigation of the resources within the Christian faith for making moral decisions with respect to the scientific, social, economic, political, and personal problems in the contemporary world.

Credits: Credits 3

Semester Offered:

Semester Offered

Offered at departmental discretion.