

SPM 331: Sport Law, Ethics and Governance

This course examines governance and policy development in sport management. Topics include studying managerial activities related to sport governance within various agencies in sport, at the high school, collegiate, professional and international levels. Further topics are will be to focus on ethical and social issues within sport organizations, as well as the legal issues prevalent in today's sports world: Gender Equity, Proposition 42 and 48, NCAA compliance, Negligence, Due Process and Liability.

Credits: Credits 3

Notes:

Notes

PETH - Satisfies Professional Ethics for the major.

Semester Offered:

Semester Offered

Offered fall semester.