

SML 510: Critical Issues in Sport Management and Leadership

Sport management is the convergence of business, sport performance, and regulatory compliance. This course will explore emergent challenges across people, policy, and process of sport. Students will examine contemporary situations that involve a sport or sport related organization and consider the implications across the individual, group, and marketplace impact.

Credits: Credits 3