

ACC 341: Governmental and Not-for-Profit Accounting

A study of the unique aspects for governmental and nonprofit entities. This course emphasizes the conceptual differences between reporting for business and non-business organizations and the application of appropriate accounting principles for non-business accounting venues.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites:

ACC 210

Program: Accounting

Semester Offered:

Offered fall semester.