

BIO 332: Economic Botany

A study of plants and their importance to humans, including use for aesthetics, foods, spices, drinks, clothes, homes, industry, medicines, and misused drugs. Labs will include field trips. Three lecture and three laboratory hours per week.

Credits: Credits 4

Prerequisites:

Prerequisites

BIO 201 or permission of instructor

Semester Offered:

Semester Offered

Offered spring semester, even numbered years.