

COM 101: Introductory Communications Lab

An introductory lab that acquaints new Communications majors and minors with the effective operation of a television studio. Under the guidance of advanced students, COM 101 students serve as the technical crew in the production of a weekly sports-related studio program. Students are required to take COM 101/201/301/401 in sequence. Restricted to COM majors and minors only.

Credits: Credits 1

Semester Offered:

Semester Offered

Offered fall semester.