

ECO 310: Intermediate Microeconomics

Theory of production; market structures, equilibrium of the firm and the industry; the pricing of factors of production; analysis of consumer behavior; general equilibrium analysis; and welfare economics.

Credits: Credits 3

Prerequisites:

Prerequisite Courses

ECO 210

ECO 220

Semester Offered:

Semester Offered

Offered at departmental discretion.