

EDU 230: Human Development and Learning

A study of the development of the learner through the lifespan, with emphasis on childhood and adolescence in the school setting. Topics include physical, social, emotional, language, and cognitive development. This course emphasizes the relationship between development and learning and individual differences in personality, achievement, learning ability, and moral development. All prospective education student take Praxis Core during the semester they take EDU 230. Required of all education candidates.

Credits: Credits 3

Notes:

Notes

Required of all Education candidates. Candidates should take EDU 224 and EDU 230 in different semesters. 4 hours clinical field experience required. $125 Teacher Education Program fee is charged.

Semester Offered:

Semester Offered

Offered spring semester.