

ENG 255: Reading the World

The study of a specific topic from world literature (literature from countries other than the United Kingdom and the United States). All literature will be read in English or English translations. This course may be repeated for credit as its topic varies.

Credits: Credits 3

Prerequisites:

Prerequisites

minimum grade of "C" in ENG 113

Semester Offered:

Semester Offered

Offered at departmental discretion.