

HCM 220: Principles of Health Care Management

This course is an introduction to the principles of management and their application to the health care industry. This course is a study of the U.S. health care continuum with emphasis on health care practices and terminology.

Credits: Credits 3

Semester Offered:

Semester Offered

Offered spring semester.