MAT 122: Mathematics for Life

A course on the methods and ideas of mathematics as they relate to everyday life. Topics to include, consumer mathematics, measurement and geometry, probability, and statistics, voting theory and graph theory.

Credits: Credits 3
Prerequisites:
Prerequisites
MAT 101 or MAT 111 or higher placement
Semester Offered:
Semester Offered
Offered at departmental discretion.